

Cuomo: Good morning kids

Last Updated: 10:20 AM, November 17, 2009 3:24 AM

Chris Cuomo was busy yesterday on "Good Morning America." Besides hosting a cooking segment with his brother Andrew's girlfriend, Sandra Lee, the hunk interviewed movie producer Frank Beddor ("There's Something About Mary"), who just got the green light from Universal for his adaptation of the "Monopoly" board game. Beddor, who was promoting his children's book, "ArchEnemy," brought 20 seventh-graders to the "GMA" set, along with their moms, who were swooning over Cuomo. "Chris was bombarded with girls and women wanting to get a picture," said a source. But Cuomo is happily married to gorgeous Niche Media editorial director Cristina Greeven Cuomo, who is expecting their third child in February, a girl to join Bella, 7, and Mario, 4, next month.

Read more:

http://www.nypost.com/p/pagesix/good_morning_kids_KRgqjoL8FIveokWXqbp8hM#ixzz0XAQevWyN

